

Annecy Killings

In 2012, five members of a British-Iraqi family and a passing French cyclist were gunned down in the French Alps. The father's brother remained a murder suspect, until Chorus was involved.

'Professional' killings

- A mother, father and grandmother were shot to death in their car. A seven-year-old daughter was assaulted, their four-year-old daughter hid throughout the attack.
- A passing cyclist was also assassinated.

Family suspect

- Police have never found a motive for the killings
- The father's brother became a suspect when investigators uncovered an inheritance dispute

The BMW estate was found in a layby above Lake Annecy.

Chorus - save time and resources

- 40 months of analyst time
- Chorus eliminated suspect in 2 days

Suspect released

For further details, please contact us:
chorusintel.com | sales@chorusintel.com | 0203 597 7350